GLOOMY OUTLOOK FOR GAS SUPPLY IN XENIA IS SEEN

Supply Will Not Nearly
Equal the Demand
For Winter.

REASONS ARE GIVEN
Public Consumes More Gas
For Heating Which Has Lessened Supply.

"Not only is the supply diminished, but if we had all the gas in the world we would be unable to supply the huge demand in the winter time."

So said R. W. Irwin, manager of the Xenia branch of the Ohio Fuel Supply Company, concerning the predicted gas shortage, announcement of which was made in an advertisement in this paper yesterday.

Conditions at the wells and past experience as to the amount of gas needed to supply the demand, has caused the company to issue like statements to consumers all over its territory. The company urges at the same time that coal heating and cooking apparatus for all buildings be supplied before the coming winter, in anticipation of a gas shortage or lack of supply altogether.

"The demand for gas is immense," said Mr. Irwin. "If it were only used for cooking purposes, the supply would not be depleted, but since it is used for both heating and cooking purposes in large supplies, it will be impossible to furnish the gas necessary next winter. Even if we had plenty of gas the mains would not be able to carry the supply necessary to furnish all consumers."

ABANDON COAL.
The fact that coal is so much higher now than formerly has led to many people abandoning its use almost entirely and using gas. This has served in a great measure to deplete the supply and cause so many more consumers and so much larger consumption that the company, which has always given good gas service in this city especially, finds itself unable to supply the demand that is anticipated for next winter.

Gas wells have a limit to their capacity, also. Mr. Irwin points out, and even the best and largest wells reach the limit at some time or other. According to Mr. Irwin, the gas territory in Indiana, at one time one of the finest in the country, ran out in such manner, and is dead now. As the wells begin to empty the pressure falls and this condition is now evident in the wells of the Ohio Fuel Supply Company.

"No, the company will not manufacture gas to supply the deficit," said the local manager in response to the question of whether his company would enter the manufacturing field with the natural gas supply gone. "Artificial gas cannot be pumped," he said. "The manufactured product contains so much moisture and is so heavy that it would be necessary to have pressure pumps every little distance along each line, in order to carry it to its destination."

SENATOR HARDING FINDS FAVOR WITH PRESS OF GERMANY

Coolidge Boomed By
Berlin Newspaper In

Berlin, June 16.—"Senator Harding's election would not be unfavorable to Germany," said the Berliner Tageblatt in commenting today upon the result of the Republican national convention at Chicago.

"In any other country Governor Coolidge would have been nominated for president and Senator Harding for vice president," said the Preussische Zeitung. It added: "But it is apparent that since President Wilson has been in power America has developed antipathy against a superior intelligence."

MEXICO TO REQUIRE OVER TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY MILLION

Will Need Vast Sum For Payment Of National Debt.

Mexico City, June 16.—It will require nearly $250,000,000 to put Mexico back on her feet and enable her to make over due interest payments on the national debt, according to the treasury department. In addition to interest payments there are many claims for revolutionary damage to be met.

The government is planning to call a conference of leading bankers within a week or two to discuss ways and means of re-establishing the national credit among the nations of the world.

WILL MAKE PUBLIC LIST OF 11 BILLS

Washington, June 16.—A list of 11 bills signed by President Wilson under Attorney General Palmer's ruling that the "pocket veto" is invalid will be made public today, the White House announced. Among important bills affected by the attorney general's decision are the water power bill, the print paper resolution, and bills repealing wartime legislation.

WARS CONTINUE TO RAVAGE COUNTRIES OF EUROPE TODAY

Most Important Is Struggle
Between Poles and Russ.

London, June 16.—While the council of the league of nations is striving to safeguard Persia from the Russian bolsheviks who already have invaded the country, several other "wars" of varying size and importance are in progress today in Europe and Asia.

The most important of these conflicts is that raging between the Russians and the Poles.

General Wrangel has taken the place of General Denikin in southern Russia and is making war against the bolsheviks in that quarter. Beginning his campaign in Crimea, General Wrangel's forces have now fought their way northward to the Dnieper river, occupying territory about twice the size of Crimea in extent.

Turkish rebels in Anatolia, who are conducting guerrilla warfare against the allies, are attacking the French near Heraclea, in Anatolia.

Greek troops and Turkish rebels are at grips in Thrace. Greek forces supported with machine guns, attacked and dispersed a Turkish band near Kukul-Burgas. Proclamations have been issued by the Greek army of occupation in Thrace threatening instant death to all Turkish rebels who are captured.

Albanian nationalists are on the war path against the Italians. According to Rome advices, quoting the Epoca, the Albanians are massing for another big attack against the Italian army of occupation in Albania.

WOMAN MAY TAKE SECOND CHOICE ON DEMOCRATIC TICKET

Boom Begun For Mrs.
A. A. Adams, Of Frisco.

San Francisco, June 16.—Will the Democratic vice presidential nomination go to a woman?

This query was agitating not alone the feminine advance guard to the convention here today but was also being seriously discussed by the male contingent.

One well defined vice presidential boom for a woman is well under way and two other names of women prominent in the party are being mentioned in connection with the proposal to place a lady close to if not actually in the White House.

The boom is for Mrs. Annette A. Adams of San Francisco, recently named assistant attorney general of the United States and formerly United States district attorney for northern California. She now holds the highest governmental appointment ever given a woman.

Her availability as a candidate is being enthusiastically boosted by several Pacific coast women's clubs and endorsement to the boom has been given by a number of women leaders who have arrived here to attend the convention. Mrs. Adams today had not decided to become an active candidate for the nomination.

RATE INCREASE ALONE FOR R. R. NOT ENOUGH

Washington, June 16.—While urging substantial freight rate increases for the railroads, R. C. Fulbright of Houston, Tex., representing the Southwestern Industrial Traffic league, told the interstate commerce commission that rate increases alone would not solve the nation's transportation problems, and that the full 31 per cent increase asked by the western roads was not necessary.

The railroads face three major problems, Mr. Fulbright declared. First the labor problem, second the revenue problem, and third the tax problem. Increased rates will not solve the labor question under existing conditions, he said, declaring that the conditions themselves must be changed. The root of the revenue problem lies in the market for railroad securities, Mr. Fulbright said, and increased rates will not create a market for securities.

East Hampton, N. Y., June 16.—George Fitzgerald, chauffeur for Enrico Caruso, opera singer, whose country home here recently was robbed of jewels valued at $500,000, was arrested on a charge of violating the Sullivan law by having a revolver in his possession without a permit. Fitzgerald, with the other employees of the household, has been detained on the Caruso estate since the jewel theft by order of the district attorney.

Meanwhile District Attorney Young continued his plans for a John Doe inquiry into the jewel theft, which will be held here Friday morning. Twenty witnesses, including Fitzgerald and all servants in the Caruso household, have been summoned to appear as witnesses.

For the Shooting of Captain's Wife.

Camp Grant, Ills., June 16.—Companies of soldiers, bands of deputy sheriffs and armed citizens posse, are scouring the countryside in its vicinity today in a hunt for five fugitive soldiers who are wanted in connection with the mysterious shooting and killing, shortly before midnight Tuesday, of Mrs. Maude Lucille Moss, the wife of Captain Leroy H. Moss, of the U. S. army, and a daughter of Blon J. Arnold, nationally known as a traction and engineering expert.

Mrs. Moss was shot by a 45 calibre revolver bullet while riding with her husband and a party of friends in her automobile, just after the machine had passed a group of soldiers on a road near Camp Grant. The sound of a shot was heard at the time, but owing to the fact that Mrs. Moss was asleep in the rear of the machine when the bullet struck her, the fact that she was shot was not discovered until several moments afterward.

OHIO OPERATOR IS HEARD ON RATES

Washington, June 16.—Protest against any increase in freight rates on coal except on a straight percentage basis was presented to the interstate commerce commission by O. E. Harrison of Columbus, in behalf of the Southern Ohio Coal Operators' association. Establishment of differentials would be discriminatory, Mr. Harrison asserted, and would work a hardship on Ohio coal operators. No shippers should deny the railroads a just relief in the form of increased rates if their prosperity is really threatened, Mr. Harrison declared. He added, however, that "there is no justification and can be none for any method of raising additional revenue which compels certain producers to pay a greater amount of money for a like service than their competitors are required to pay."

URGES AMNESTY
Political Prisoners Would Be Tendered Mercy
By Labor.

Montreal, June 16.—The American Federation of Labor convention adopted a resolution demanding repeal of the compulsory arbitration sections of the Esch-Cummins transportation act of 1920. The executive council was instructed to take steps to bring about this action.

Introduction of military training into schools was condemned by the convention and the executive council was directed to oppose any attempt to establish compulsory military service as "unnecessary, undesirable and un-American."

Gompers met his first decisive defeat in the executive council of the American Federation of Labor when his proposal for a beer and wine plank in the political demands of the federation was beaten after a spirited debate.

The convention called on President Wilson and Attorney General Palmer of the United States to obtain "amnesty for all political prisoners." The convention declared that "the further prosecution and imprisonment in the United States of political offenders is contrary to the democratic idealism and the traditions of freedom to which our country is committed."

The convention condemned the government's use of the injunction under the Lever act against the bituminous coal miners in the recent strike.

OHIO REPUBLICANS TO GUARD AGAINST FACTIONAL FIGHTS

Withdrawal Of Opposition To Smith Being Urged.

Columbus, O., June 16.—With a view of eliminating possibility of factional fights which might embarrass Senator Harding's presidential campaign in Ohio, prominent Republicans from Ohio are to confer at Washington late this week, according to a report current here today.

It is understood that one of the desired means of effecting party harmony in the Buckeye state is the withdrawal of candidates opposing the renomination of Secretary of State Smith, whose friends claim he is entitled to another term without a contest.

If former Secretary of State Charles Q. Hildebrand, of Wilmington, does not get out of the contest against Secretary of State Smith, it is said Dr. M. W. Bland of Marion, former state registrar of vital statistics, will manage Hildebrand's campaign.

Political gossip here lines the senatorial candidacy of former Governor Willis up with the gubernatorial candidacy of former Congressman Ralph D. Cole. Belief is expressed that Walter F. Brown, Toledo, also a Republican aspirant to succeed Harding in the United States Senate will be linked up to some degree at least, with the support behind the gubernatorial candidacy of former Mayor H. L. Davis, Cleveland.

Congressman R. C. McCulloch, Canton, expects to open headquarters here in a few days. He plans an automobile campaign tour taking him into every county in the state.

Among the injured are: Chief Martin O'Brien, John P. Haanegan and Secretary B. F. Verheven of the St. Louis police department, Dr. and Mrs. O. G. Paff, of Indianapolis, and several members of the Boston college football team and Thomas Kaosti, of Detroit.

MEXICO THREATENED BY REVOLUTION IN NEAR FUTURE, BELIEF

Cut In Size Of Army
May Lead To Trouble.

Mexico City, June 16.—Mexico is threatened with another revolution in the near future as a result of the contemplated action of General P. Elias Calles, minister of war and marine to cut the Mexican army to one half according to travelers reaching the border from Mexico City today.

Considerable adverse comment is heard in Mexico city, especially among army officers who already have been discharged. It is pointed out that these men who have been soldiers for the past ten years are unfitted for other kinds of work and are in danger of becoming dependents.

Common soldiers who have become used to the care free life of the army protest that they will not heed the manifesto urging them to return to work on the ranches and in the mines. Some of the soldier spirits declare they are ready to follow any dissatisfied leaders who may undertake an enterprise against the government.

If another revolution should occur and the government should be attacked by an army of trained ex-soldiers, it may be necessary for the Mexican government to see outside aid, it is said by officials in Mexico City.

The same officials were quoted as saying it would be necessary for Mexico to import arms from the United States if possible and that the closest co-operation would be necessary between the Mexican government and the United States government to bring lasting peace to the southern republic.

CLEW LEADS POLICE TO LEXINGTON, KY., IN MURDER CASE

Think Turfman Victim
Of Relative Of Girl.

New York, June 16.—One of three separate and definite clues, with revenge or jealousy as the motive in all, promises today an early solution of the mystery surrounding the murder of Joseph Gowne Elwell, bridge whist expert, turfman and society favorite. The most promising clue, District Attorney Swann believes, leads to Lexington, Ky., and detectives have gone there in the hope of making an arrest.

Swann declared the Lexington lead points to the father or brother of a girl of prominent family with whom Elwell is said to have become intimate during a recent stay at the race tracks there.

It is declared Elwell left Lexington suddenly because of threats made by male relatives of the girl.

COLUMBUS CENSUS IS NOW 237,031

DEMPSEY ACQUITTED OF SLACKER CHARGE

San Francisco, June 16.—William Harrison (Jack) Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, was found not guilty on a selective draft evasion indictment by a jury in the United States district court here. HARDING FAVORS "FRONT PORCH" CAMPAIGN NOW

Presidential Nominee Has
Home at Marion Re-
Arranged.

USES McKINLEY STYLE
Senator Will Receive
Formal Notification
July 15.

Washington, June 16.—Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican nominee for president, wants a "front porch" campaign. He is having his home at Marion, Ohio, fitted up to that end.

Republican campaign managers, however, will decide this important detail of the campaign and until Senator Harding has had an opportunity to confer with them no decision can be reached.

The campaign to be made in the interest of Senator Harding will be aggressive and full of ginger. With those plans the senator is in full accord. "There is greater apparent interest in this, than in other recent campaigns," the senator said. "The interest of the voters must be considered. Campaign plans will be carefully formulated."

The most promising clue, District Attorney Swann believes, leads to Lexington, Ky., and detectives have gone there in the hope of making an arrest.

Swann declared the Lexington lead points to the father or brother of a girl of prominent family with whom Elwell is said to have become intimate during a recent stay at the race tracks there.

It is declared Elwell left Lexington suddenly because of threats made by male relatives of the girl.

COLUMBUS CENSUS IS NOW 237,031

Washington, June 16.—Preliminary population figures announced today by the census bureau as follows:

Columbus, O., 1920 population 237,031; increase since 1910, 55,520 or 30.6 per cent.

DEMPEY ACQUITTED OF SLACKER CHARGE

San Francisco, June 16.—William Harrison (Jack) Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, was found not guilty on a selective draft evasion indictment by a jury in the United States district court here. Both sides waived final argument in the trial and immediately thereafter Judge M. T. Dooley instructed the jury. The defense, contrary to its announcement, failed to put on two concluding witnesses.

HARDING FAVORS "FRONT PORCH" CAMPAIGN NOW

Presidential Nominee Has Home at Marion Re-Arranged.

USES MCKINLEY STYLE

Senator Will Receive Formal Notification July 15.

Washington, June 16.—Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican nominee for president, wants a "front porch" campaign. He is having his home at Marion, Ohio, fitted up to that end. Republican campaign managers, however, will decide this important detail of the campaign and until Senator Harding has had an opportunity to confer with them no decision can be reached.

The campaign to be made in the interest of Senator Harding will be aggressive and full of ginger. With those plans the senator is in full accord. "There is greater apparent interest in this, than in other recent campaigns," the senator said. "The interest of the voters must be considered. Campaign plans will be carefully formulated."

The senator's home at Marion is adapted admirably to a campaign such as he favors. It has a large front porch opening on a wide street. The porch would serve for a speaker's stand and the street has ample width for the hundreds of enthusiastic Republicans who would journey to Marion to see and hear the candidate.

MCKINLEY STYLE

This form of campaign was made famous by McKinley, another Ohioan whose home at Canton, Ohio, became known to hundreds of thousands of Americans received there by the war-torn president. Republicans saw McKinley's mantle has fallen upon Harding. The "front porch" idea was tried later by Judge Alton B. Parker at "Aesop's" New York, in the campaign in which Roosevelt defeated him.

Senator Harding will receive formal notification of nomination in his Marion home about July 15, and make his speech of acceptance there. He will give much thought to the preparation of this speech.

It will be his first important statement of the campaign and represent his interpretations of the Republican platform and his individual views on important issues before the people. This speech will form the text book of the Harding campaign orators.

He will leave Washington early next week for some quiet resort accompanied by Mrs. Harding. In seclusion there he will work out his speech of acceptance, phrasing it to suit himself and giving it personally.

The senator is anxious to get away from Washington for a rest. He is spending long hours here trying to catch up with his correspondence.

REPLY TO BUTLER ISSUED BY WOOD DENIES CHARGE

Doctor's Statement Characterized As "Falsehood."

Chicago, June 16.—In a signed statement, Major General Leonard Wood characterized as "a vicious and malicious falsehood" a declaration by Nicholas Murray Butler of New York that a "motley group of stock gamblers, oil and mining promoters, munitions makers and other like persons" backed the general's campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

General Wood said that he regretted to make the statement, but that it was necessary to "brand a faker and to denounce a lie." Declaring that the men who managed his campaign were of "extraordinary high character," the general said that the attack upon them "is infamous," and that Dr. Butler's action was "an attempt to ingratiate himself with certain elements which exercised a determining influence at the convention." The statement also said:

"Colonel William Cooper Procter is a man of extraordinary high character, known throughout the land for his absolute integrity and honesty. His associates were men of like character, most of whom responded to their country's call during the war. They typify a group of progressive Americans. The attack upon them is infamous."

"The forces which brought me before the convention with preponderant force were hundreds of thousands of patriotic men and women in every walk of life, who have indorsed me at national-state conventions, nationwide state primaries and in a nationwide poll of unprecedented size."

WILL AID CITY IN PAVING WEST SECOND ST.

Through the financial assistance of the county commissioners, who will dedicate $15,000 to the city, the paving on West Second street will be completed by this fall.

This was the decision reached by the county and city commissioners held in joint session Monday. Realizing that the paving work on West Second street, one of the main arteries leading into the city, would be stopped unless the city received financial assistance, the county commissioners voted to grant the amount of difference from the special awo mill road levy voted for some time ago.

The paving program on West Second street was called off, when it was found that the property along the street would not stand the assessment. The amount that could be raised by paying assessment on the street, would still leave a deficit on the cost of the work, even with the city's share. With the property assessed as much as it would stand, which is one third of the total valuation, the deficit amounted to $15,000, which since it was not included in the bond issue, could not be raised by the city, and was supplied by the county rather than have the paving work stop.

The action of the county commissioners in voting the city the amount of the deficit, shows the appreciation of test body for the assistance given by the city in passing to two mill road levy. While it was optional with the county body as to what purpose the funds should be used, the commissioners were influenced by the fact that the stopping of work would mean that West Second street would continue to be a mudhole, with no side streets to draw the traffic coming into the city away from the bad section of the street. A petition bearing the names of a number of people who lived on the Bellbrook pike and west of the city, was also received by the commissioners. Therefore, appreciating the assistance given by the city in passing the road levy, the commissioners decided to dedicate $15,000 of the fund to the city's use, thereby taking a step that will mean the improvement by paving of every street leading into the city from the county, from the corporation line on.

SEVEN KILLED IN SEVERE STORM

Three of those killed were struck by lightning, two more were drowned in the storm and two in collisions due to obscurity of vision caused by rain. Many buildings were struck by lightning one a school house filled with children where a panic was prevented by the prompt action of teachers in getting their charges to play games.

years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work. He finally decided after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body. With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system. He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Sayre & Hemphill have been appointed agents for Allenhu in this vicinity with the understanding that they will freely return the purchase money to all who state they received no benefit.

FARMER THOUGHT BACK WOULD BREAK

Felt like he was being bent backward over a barrel. Liver was lazy and often became dizzy. Whole system was run down. Found relief in Dreco, the great root and herb medicine.

"It is wonderful the relief I got from taking Dreco, for I felt like my back would break when I started on my first bottle," stated Mr. George Snyder, of 1106 First St., Findlay, O. Mr. Snyder is the well-known truck farmer who has lived in this city thirty years.

"I ached all over, my liver was sluggish and whole system in a run-down, weakened condition. I think I was on the verge of a breakdown. As soon as I started taking Dreco I felt better. My bowels acted freely and my kidneys were flushed off. I began to feel sound and my appetite increased. My entire system now seems to be cleaned out, and my body is free from pain. I feel good all the time and give all the credit to Dreco. It sure is one fine medicine."

Dreco is the pure liquid extract of many roots, herbs, barks and leaves, which act on the vital organs of the human body. After taking Dreco it is noticed that the stomach is soothed and the gassy condition is eliminated; the liver becomes active, relieving headaches, that dull, tired-out feeling; nerves are quieted, which induces sound sleep; the kidneys are strengthened; appetite increased; bowels act with ease and regularity, and the whole system takes on renewed energy, vigor and vitality. Dreco is harmless, pleasant to take and the effects are quickly felt.

Dreco is now sold by all progressive druggists and is being especially introduced here by Sohn's Drug Store.

PLEADS GUILTY; FINED $10 BY POLICE JUDGE

John F. Watkins, colored changed his plea to guilty to a charge of speeding when given his hearing in Police Court Wednesday morning and was assessed a fine of $10 and costs. GO HEAL THE SICK

This Man Is Leading Sick People Back to Health.

His Fight Against Old Age, Weakness and Disease.

Ten years ago H. H. Von Schlick of 305 Penn. avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa., was unknown. Today millions of happy people bless and praise him as a benefactor. They are grateful for new health and freedom from sickness and disease. Mr. Von Schlick is now in the winter of life. He has ruddy cheeks, bright sparkling eyes and the snap and vigor of youth. Twenty years ago he was down and out, physically. Then Von Schlick met Boris Marolek, an old Bulgarian friend, who gave him a Herb Tea. Von Schlick recovered his health. He was a new man in mind and body. This Bulgarian Blood Tea was a great medicinal discovery for healing the sick. Von Schlick obtained the secret formula and process for making this Bulgarian Blood Tea. The roots, barks, leaves, herbs, berries and flowers grow in forests, fields, valleys and swamps and come from Europe, Asia and Africa. The wonderful power in this Herb Tea regenerates the system, cleanses and tones the blood, cleanses the liver, flushes and purifies the kidneys, sweetens the bowels and stomach and gives back the snap and vigor that only a healthy person can have. For years Von Schlick made this Tea and gave it to sick people. It helped every one. The fame of this medicine began to travel; people came to him for it and he gave it free—gave until it hurt. Mr. Von Schlick was a poor man and was unable to supply the general demand as the herbs were very costly, being imported from distant lands. Then people told him to make it for the whole world to use and today he believes he is doing more good for suffering humanity with Bulgarian Blood Tea than any other medicine in the world.

Bulgarian Blood Tea today is used the world over and praised by millions of sufferers fighting disease and warding off old age weaknesses. They include happy girls budding into womanhood or women crossing precarious thresholds of life. All praise and recommend it. Men regain their strength and vitality, the blood becomes rich and pure and the snap and sparkle of good health returns to those who were in despair. Just ask your druggist today for a trial package of Bulgarian Blood Tea and you will never regret the time you spent in reading this item.

GO HEAL THE SICK

This Man Is Leading Sick People Back to Health.
His Fight Against Old Age, Weakness and Disease.

Ten years ago H. H. Von Schlick of 305 Penn. avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa., was unknown. Today millions of happy people bless and praise him as a benefactor. They are grateful for new health and freedom from sickness and disease. Mr. Von Schlick is now in the winter of life. He has ruddy cheeks, bright sparkling eyes and the snap and vigor of youth. Twenty years ago he was down and out, physically. Then Von Schlick met Boris Marokoff, an old Bulgarian friend, who gave him a Herb Tea. Von Schlick recovered his health. He was a new man in mind and body. This Bulgarian Blood Tea was a great medicinal discovery for healing the sick. Von Schlick obtained the secret formula and process for making this Bulgarian Blood Tea. The roots, barks, leaves, berries and flowers grow in forests, fields, valleys and swamps and come from Europe, Asia and Africa. The wonderful power in this Herb Tea regenerates the system, cleanses and tones the blood, cleanses the liver, flushes and purifies the kidneys, sweetens the bowels and stomach and gives back the snap and vigor that only a healthy person can have. For years Von Schlick made this Tea, and gave it to sick people. It helped every one. The fame of this medicine began to travel; people came to him for it and he gave it free—gave until it hurt. Mr. Von Schlick was a poor man and was unable to supply the general demand as the herbs were very costly, being imported from distant lands. Then people told him to make it for the whole world to use and today he believes he is doing more good for suffering humanity with Bulgarian Blood Tea than any other medicine in the world.

Bulgarian Blood Tea today is used the world over and praised by millions of sufferers fighting disease and warding off old age weaknesses. They include happy girls budding into womanhood or women crossing precarious thresholds of life. All praise and commend it. Men regain their strength and vitality, the blood becomes rich and pure and the snap and sparkle of good health returns to those who were in despair. Just ask your druggist today for a trial package of Bulgarian Blood Tea and you will never regret the time you spent in reading this item.

The twinnemakers hope to place a strong combination in the field for the week end fracas and it is announced that either Regan or Shrike will be in the box for them. Anyone working for the Hooven and Allison company is eligible to a try out on the club. There is a good opportunity for short stops, third basemen and outfielders and there are plenty of jobs open at the mills for candidates who may wish to get on the ball club. Players who wish a try out are requested to see Manager Lewis.

Last Sunday the ropemakers were defeated by Waynesville at the latter place. 7-4. M. Leakey hurling for the

"JUST A GIRL"

BY JANE PHELPS

ZENA TRIES A CAFETERIA
Chapter 39
I realized that I had no time—rather no money to waste. So I put on my hat again and went out for papers, leaving my unpacking until I should come in. I stopped at Mrs. Lynch's room on the second floor and asked some question as to where I could find a cheap restaurant in the locality and so forth.

"Be careful how you talk to any men folks," she warned kindly after answering my questions. "Mostly they ain't no good. And some of them hangs around just to make trouble for young girls. Don't have nothin' to say to none of 'em."

I found a small cafeteria near the house—also a first venture. I had heard of such places where one armed themselves with a tray, a knife, and fork, and waited upon themselves, but I never had been in one. I was naturally awkward and also backward about taking what I wanted. There was no prices on the viands. That troubled me; I was afraid I would spend too much. So I only took coffee and toast. The checker gave me a slip and when I saw how moderate price would soon be far before of going back in the line and getting more. I was young, healthy and the odor of the food had made me realize that I was also hungry. I had eaten nothing but a cold bite out of my lunch box all day.

The checker kindly told me it would be all right and I went back and this time selected a chop and a baked potato. When I carried the tray back to the desk again she smiled kindly at me and said:

"That is better."

The few kindly words and the smile made a lump come in my throat. I thought the world wasn't all unkind. She had seen thru my need for economy, yet had not made me one bit uncomfortable. She was about 50 years old, with snow white hair, and a nice trustworthy face. I made up my mind to come there often. I little new that even their moderate prices would soon be far beyond me.

I bought two papers. Then I returned to my room. I would unpack, then spend the evening choosing places to visit on Monday. The next day being Sunday I could do nothing. I would find a church near attending services then get the Sunday papers also. Surely with all of them and all day to decide upon whom to call, I would have no trouble in getting a position.

"For what should I try?"

I had asked myself this question over and over on the train. I was still asking it. I had proved that I could not hope to get a place as private secretary unless I knew typing and stenography. A dim resolution, hazy and unformed lurked in the back of my mind that some day I would add those two necessary items to my education. But just now I must think only of something that

Harry Myers of Belmont was in the village doing contract work last week.

TWO DEAD AND FOUR INJURED RESULT OF FEUD
Bristol Tenn. June 15.—Two men are dead and four wounded as the result of a pistol battle arising from a feud between members of the Berry and Fee families at Esserville Va., it was reported here today. Those killed were Robert Fee and George Polly. The wounded were Dewitt Fee homas and George Berry and a baby struck by a stray bullet. The pistol fight occurred on the streets of Esserville.

GERMANY WANTS MORE TIME
Berlin, June 15.—Germany has requested the supreme council to grant a further delay of three months for the reduction to the German army to 100,000 says The Tageblatt. It recently was announced that the reduction of the German army to 200,000 men had been accomplished.

Heart and Home Problems

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Will lemon juice injure the skin? If so, how should it be used?

BLUE EYES.
Lemon juice is good to whiten the skin. Apply it after washing in the morning—one-third lemon juice to two thirds water. At night use cold cream so that your skin will not become dry.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young woman of twenty-four. I was married five years ago. We have a little boy, Henry, of three years.

My husband is very quiet. He works in an office. When he gets home he eats supper and if Henry goes near him he will say, "Don't touch daddy." Then he fixes a few books and goes to bed.

He doesn't say a word to me about any of his work. It is getting worse all the time. He doesn't go anywhere except to the office. I have a beautiful home and I get all the money I want, but I have no enjoyment whatever.

Please advise me what will draw my husband's attentions to me.

LONELY.
Your husband seems to have a silent nature which is difficult to understand. You must try to draw him out and encourage him to talk about his work to you. Ask him if it has been a busy day, if the business is growing and they are employing more men, or if the switchman strike has affected business so that they are laying off men. He will appreciate your interest if you ask intelligent questions which show that you understand what he is doing.

If you and your husband do not read together, you ought to. He may say, however, that he is too tired, in which case you will have to read alone. If he reads and does not want to read out aloud, read his books during the day so that you will be able to talk them over with him.

Of course it is unfortunate that

Potato Bread—Sponge: One cake compressed yeast, one tablespoon sugar, one medium sized potato, one tablespoon flour.
Boil potato in one and one-half quarts water. When done drain off water. Mash potato and mix flour and sugar and pour over mixture hot water from potato. Let stand until lukewarm and add the cake of yeast which has been standing for ten or fifteen minutes in one-half glass of lukewarm water.
Stir this sponge occasionally before mixing into bread. Should be made about an hour before mixing. To make the bread, take three large sievesful flour, one-half cup sugar, two tablespoons salt, five tablespoons lard.
Sift four into bread-mixing pan. Make hollow in center and pour in the above sponge or yeast, together with sugar, salt, lard.
Mix first with spoon, then knead with hands until a firm dough is obtained. Let rise in warm place from five to eight hours. May be left to rise over night and laid out in loaves in morning. Will make five loaves bread.
Bake one hour in slow oven.
After baking bread, if the loaves are brushed over with water in which a little sugar is placed, the crust will not be hard and dry.

"JUST A GIRL"

BY JANE PHELPS

ZENA TRIES A CAFETERIA
Chapter 39
I realized that I had no time—rather no money to waste. So I put on my hat again and went out for papers, leaving my unpacking until I should come in, I stopped at Mrs. Lynch's room on the second floor and asked some question as to where I could find a cheap restaurant in the locality and so forth.

"Be careful how you talk to any men folks," she warned kindly after answering my questions. "Mostly they ain't no good. And some of them hangs around just to make trouble for young girls. Don't have nothin' to say to none of 'em."

I found a small cafeteria near the house—a first venture. I had heard of such places where one armed themselves with a tray, a knife, and fork, and waited upon themselves, but I never had been in one. I was naturally awkward and also backward about taking what I wanted. There was no prices on the viands. That troubled me; I was afraid I would spend too much. So I only took coffee and toast. The checker gave me a slip and when I saw how moderate price would soon be far better than getting more, I was young, healthy and the odor of the food had made me realize that I was also hungry. I had eaten nothing but a cold bite out of my lunch box all day.

The checker kindly told me it would be all right and I went back to my education. But just now I must think only of something that would bring in enough to live on and the prospects of more so I could help Mother when what she had was gone. It would not last her very long, I knew.

When I had unpacked—but first I washed the bureau drawers and as best I could with the facilities at hand, cleaned the closet—I unpacked my suitcase, I used the part of the paper containing no advertisements to line the drawers and hung a skirt over the other dress I had brought in the suitcase. This done, I sat down with my manicure scissors and a pencil to look for something encouraging under the caption "Female Help Wanted."

There were columns of such advertisements. It seemed as if every keeper, every shop, wanted "Female business man in Chicago, very house-help."

I took a paper and divided it by a line. On one side I put office I would visit—I still clung to the idea that I might find someone who would have a place for me, even though I was not a typist—one the other I put department stores and shops. Then, worn out, I went to bed, but not before I had asked God to help me, and to keep me from being made horrid and common because of my surroundings.

I felt there was danger of just that so keenly had I already been affected by them.

Heart and Home Problems

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Will lemon juice injure the skin? If so, how should it be used?

BLUE EYES.
Lemon juice is good to whiten the skin. Apply it after washing in the morning—one-third lemon juice to two thirds water. At night use cold cream so that your skin will not become dry.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young woman of twenty-four. I was married five years ago. We have a little boy, Henry, of three years.

My husband is very quiet. He works in an office. When he gets home he eats supper and if Henry goes near him he will say, "Don't touch daddy." Then he fixes a few books and goes to bed.

He doesn't say a word to me about any of his work. It is getting worse all the time. He doesn't go anywhere except to the office. I have a beautiful home and I get all the money I want, but I have no enjoyment whatever.

Please advise me what will draw my husband's attentions to me.

LONELY.
Your husband seems to have a silent nature which is difficult to understand. You must try to draw him out and encourage him to talk about his work to you. Ask him if it has been a busy day, if the business is growing and they are employing more men, or if the switchman strike has affected business so that they are laying off men. He will appreciate your interest if you ask intelligent questions which show that you understand what he is doing.

If you and your husband do not read together, you ought to. He may say, however, that he is too tired, in which case you will have to read alone. If he reads and does not want to read aloud, read his books during the day so that you will be able to talk them over with him.

Of course it is unfortunate that he does not take more interest in his home and family, but you can be thankful that he is silent and does not disturb the peace with unkind remarks and quarreling.

Instead of drawing his interest to you, concentrate yours on him and see if he does not respond. Compliment him when he deserves it and let him see that you admire him as you did before you were married.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am eighteen but am small for my age. I have a girl friend who is fourteen and she is the same height and size. I live with my father and step-mother and they are not very nice to me. I earn my own living and buy my clothes. Also I am not very well. I hate to stay home, for when I am sick my step-mother is unpleasant and complains about my eating there. I feel so unwelcome that I would like to leave home.

I pay my step-mother board and I don't think it is fair for her to treat me as she does. I do my own laundry. My mother has been dead fifteen years.

My friend and her mother are going to Chicago and want me to go. We would all live together and work. Since I have no pleasure at home, would you advise me to go or stay? I almost hate home because I am treated so mean.

I am sick but have to keep working rather than be mistreated. I am a good girl and not saucy to my father and step-mother. I have been working for two years and am not tired yet.

MOTHERLESS GIRL.
Ask your father's advice about leaving home. If he admires your girl friend and her mother he will probably be glad to have you go where you will be happier. It will take strength of character to fight your own way, but you can do it and remain a good girl. Never forget that unhappiness is the inevitable result of wrong doing. Keep your self-respect and you will get along all right.

SIXTY THREE GRADUATES RECEIVE DIPLOMAS TUESDAY : EVENING IN COMMENCEMENT OF CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL

Prettily arranged and impressive were the annual Commencement exercises of Central High school held at the First M. E. Church Tuesday evening, where sixty three young people members of the class of 1920 were given their diplomas.

The big church was packed with friends and relatives of the graduates, despite the extreme warmth of the night but the exercises were shortened this year by the absence of a visiting speaker on the program. The edifice was decorated for the commencement occasion, with flowers and greenery banded in the chancel. Girls of the Junior class, acted as ushers wearing their Junior Reception gowns.

To the strains of the organ prelude played by Miss Stella Bishop the graduates, the girls in their dainty white commencement gowns and carrying roses and the boys in dark suits with black bow ties, marched to their places. The class is the largest every graduated in the history of Central high school and records the growth of that school in point of attendance in the last few years.

Rev. Albert Read, pastor of the First Baptist Church, gave the invocation which opened the exercises and the Girl's Chorus, sang "Where My Caravan Has Rested." The opening oration of the graduates was that of Isadore Hymn, who took for his subject "Democracy and Education," and handled it ably and clearly.

Miss Mary Fuller delivered many bright promises for her classmates in her oration, the subject of which was "The Dragon of '20" the dragon being the class emblem. Miss Gladys Shadrack sang a solo "The Birthday" and she was followed by Miss Thelma Deacon whose oration, subject was "The Mayflower Still Sails on." The topic was timely in that this year is the centennial year of the landing of the historic flower on our shores.

"The Reconstruction Era" was the subject of the oration of Lawrence Riddell, class president who dealt with after-war problems cleverly in his short speech. A duet "In the Hammock" was prettily rendered by Misses Gladys Shadrack and Pauline McPadden.

Henry Flynn easily presented his subject of "What it Means to be a Citizen" a well prepared oration and Miss Elizabeth Galloway delivered the final oration of the class on the subject "Farewell Sentiments of the Class of '20" a farewell of the class to the school after the completion of four years of school work which she ably delivered.

Superintendent C. A. Waltz made the presentation of the diplomas to the sixty-two graduates present. Wilbur Thornhill another member of the class being unable to be present because of an automobile accident suffered several weeks ago.

The presentation of the diplomas was followed by the singing of the class song by the entire class and benediction given by Rev. Albert Read.

The members of the class who received the award of their four years of high school training Tuesday night are as follows: Lawrence A. Riddell, president; Robert Walker, Taylor, vice president; Henry C. Flynn, secretary; Mary Katherine Dadds, treasurer; Dorothy C. Chambliss, Lois Purdom, Ruth Mae Ross, Imogene Mullen, Willard H. ARTHUR E. MORGAN MAY BE PRESIDENT OF ANTIOCH COLLEGE

That Arthur E. Morgan, head of The Morgan Engineering Company, who has planned for the development of Antioch College into a co-operative school, is being induced to accept the presidency of the college when it is being conducted under that system, was the announcement made by President Wm. M. Dawson at the commencement exercises Wednesday morning.

President Dawson outlined the plan of Mr. Morgan which will give any student the opportunity of working his way through college by taking half of the time to his studies and devoting the other half to labor. Attorney Paul C. Martin of Springfield delivered the commencement address in Kelly Hall. He impressed upon the graduates that preparation for life was more important than preparation for living.

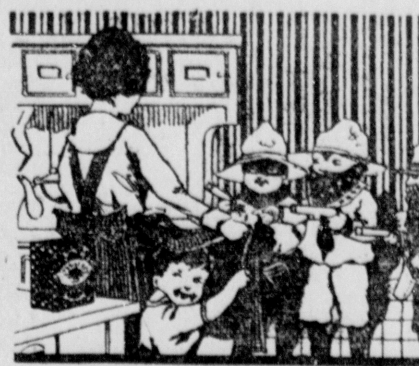

Degrees were conferred by President Dawson upon the following: Master of Arts, Elmer Paul Barr of Osborn; Bachelor of Arts, Rosalie Hollingshead, Xenia; Olive Parrish, Bethel, O.; Edwin E. Vandersloot, York, Penn; Bachelor of Science, Charles P. Vannorsdall, Xenia. The exercises were followed by the commencement dinner. A program of impromptu speeches took place after dinner, Prof. Frances E. Caldwell, of

Ohio State University acting as toastmaster. Among those who were called upon for talks were President Dawson, Congressman Fess, Mr. Judy, of New York, an alumnus, Charles Vannorsdall, president of the senior class, Dr. Jesse Johnson, Xenia and Dr. Gaehr of Yellow Springs.

THE KIND OF STUFF OUR CANDIDATE FOR VICE PRESIDENT IS MADE OF.

It is seldom that the second name on a ticket has brought it such strength as that of Calvin Coolidge. The American people idolize a man with backbone. He was presented with a new and anarchic issue in the Boston police strike. There is no computing what a "pussy-footer" in the Massachusetts State House might have cost that city and this whole country. If the Governor had hesitated or conciliated or compromised, it would have been officially admitted that a police force can step aside, on the specious plea that they are "on strike," and let the deluge of ever-waiting robbery, rapine and murder sweep over a helpless civilian population.

It was a far worse crime than would be a "strike" by the soldiers in the trenches; for that would only allow an army of civilized troops to invade an unprotected countryside. There might be "atrocities," but there would be at least an effort at martial law and order. But a police "strike" releases upon an unarmed people the "red indians," the degenerate savages, the reckless "gallows' birds" who lurk in the moral jungles of our great cities—the modern Huns and Vandals whose existence is the blackest blot on our boasted civilization. Still they exist; and when the police go off duty they swarm out in deadly clouds.

But Governor Calvin Coolidge did not flinch. He saw at once that the very fabric of civilization was challenged. And in the name of the splendid old Commonwealth of Massachusetts he took up the challenge. He called out the forces of law and order. He beat back the emissaries of crime. He burned upon the foreheads of the police mutineers the damning epithet "deserter." He barred them forever out of the public service they had betrayed. He crushed at one stroke all fear that this poltroon policy might spread to the loyal and steadfast men who in our many cities stand as the sufficient and trusted guardians of the peace and public security.

That was Calvin Coolidge. No one will accuse him of being "machine-made" or machine-dominated. His presence on the ticket will give it an irresistible appeal to men who love courage, conviction and that rare ability to meet a swift crisis with decisive and rightly directed boldness.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

"HERE'S YOUR HAT—WHAT'S YOUR HURRY?" SAYS THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE TO JOHNSON AND BORAH.

Senator Hiram W. Johnson will pass a few days in the capitol and then go to California. There is probably no livelier convention aftermath topic of conversation than his eventual intentions regarding the Harding-Coolidge ticket. Senator Johnson retained unbroken control of the California delegation to the bitter end, resolutely refused to join the Harding band-wagon.

The Johnson-Borah combination emerges from the convention in notoriously sore mood. They are tasting the bitterness of defeat. It is reported in quarters likely to know the Johnsonian present state of mind that the senator is going to his own state to sound sentiment there on the Harding candidacy. His future action will depend largely on what he finds there. If he finds the conservative Chicago nomination is considered too "unprogressive" to suit California and the West generally, Senator Johnson may decide to go his own way, and the faithful Borah with him.

William Howard Taft's defiant "let-them-bolt" message to the irreconcilables, finds an interesting echo in the Chicago Tribune. That staunch organ of progressivism, addressing itself particularly to Senator William E. Borah, says: "Here's your hat. What's your hurry?"

It says Borah will find it considerably harder to get along without the Republican party than the Republican party will find it difficult to worry along without him.

Senator Harding, the same authorities aver, personifies ideally and adequately the "feet-on-the-ground" policy which the country sighs to see re-established in Washington in substitution for the professorial idealism from which the United States has suffered since 1913.

THE G. O. P. PICKED HARDING TO CEMENT ELEMENTS ALONG MCKINLEY LINES.

If one thought more than any other dominates the discussions today by Republican leaders on the selection of the Harding-Coolidge ticket, it was just this:

"Has Harding the craftsmanship to pick the scattered ends of factionalism and weld them to the main body of the party organization in such a manner as to have the finished product resemble the political structure that made the Republican party of a decade ago the party of efficiency?"

All of the leaders who worked for the nomination of Harding naturally believed he has. They regard him as the one man fitted for the task. He represents to them a reversion to the McKinley type, a fact his supporters made much of during the pre-convention fight. He does not pose as being anything other than what he is—a conservative.

It was the deliberate design of the party leaders to go to the country this year as the disciples of conservatism. They were convinced the American people wanted such a candidate. They have in Harding, they believe, a man free from cults and isms, who could be expected to give the nation an administration of public affairs based on sound principles of business judgment, of doing, they are quite sure, that which the business interests of the country—the smallest merchant as well as the greatest banker—desire at Washington, more of practical common sense in the settlement of public questions and less of cant and horse-play.

ALL IN VAIN.

I was weighing, on the quiet, more than any gent should weigh; so I tried a rigid diet, and I ate but once a day. All the things I like were banished, so my system might grow thin; all the pies and doughnuts vanished from the larder and the bin. I was thicker, I was broader, than a mortal man should be; so I fed on bran and fodder and fresh pumpkins from the tree. Oh, I lived on slaw and gherkins, till my form grew thin and spare, till I lost some seven firkins of the lard I used to wear. But I'm once again devouring grub that pleases every sense, and the horse's feed is souring, with the garbage, by the fence. For I'll sleep beneath a hummock in the boneyard's solemn hush, ere I'll torture my old stomach with the fat-reducing mush. So I beckon to the waiter and I tell him he may bring ribs of beef and brown potato, pie and cake and everything. For the life we live is worthless if we're eating shredded straw, and the days are dark and mirthless, and there ought to be a law. You may feel yourself grow fatter as you face the groaning board; what the dickens does it matter? Eat the best you can afford. Through the victuals take a header, eat while you are drawing breath; for there is no dead man deadier than the one who starved to death.

WILBERFORCE

The Trustee Board of Wilberforce University held an all day session, Tuesday, in the chapel of Shorter Hall with the President, Bishop J. H. Jones, presiding to consider the affairs of the school. A large number of ministers and laymen of the church are in attendance from all sections of the country. Bishops are present from New York, Baltimore, Charleston, and Columbia. S. C. President W. S. Scarborough presented a lengthy report reviewing the work of the school, stating that he had at the request of the Secretary of the Carnegie Corporation filed an application for $20,000 for the erection of a Science Building. He gave a retrospect of his work for the past twelve years and although the school was heavily involved with indebtedness the institution was now free of debt he held her recommended that all the teachers and employees be retained at an increase of salary, that an office of registrar be established that the teachers be classified as professors and instructors and that they be paid according to their experience and length of service.

Owing to the illness of the Secretary, Mr. Carl Jenkins, Dr. T. H. Jackson the Treasurer read the two reports, account for cash received, $92,155.05 and expenditures 90,396.77 with a balance of $1,758.28.

During the recess a number of leading ministers held a meeting endorsing Senator Warren G. Harding for President forwarding the following letter:

Senator Warren G. Harding,

Interest and satisfaction the announcement that the Republican National Convention has chosen you as the standard bearer, as the presidential nominee, to lead the republican hosts in the November election. Your wide experience in governmental matters your extensive knowledge of constitutional law and your acknowledged ability in grappling with international problems as well as in matters purely American, lead us to believe that you are the most deserving of the influence and suffrage of American citizens regardless of past party affiliation or allegiance.

In the evening the rhetorical contest was held. A number of students took part and delivered orations and papers. The prizes will be awarded Thursday during the commencement exercises.

Wednesday evening Dr. R. C. Ransom of New York, President of the Alumni Association will deliver an address to the graduates who are in attendance from other states for the purpose of laying plans for a financial drive to assist in building dormitories for the young men and women. THE KIND OF STUFF OUR CANDIDATE FOR VICE PRESIDENT IS MADE OF.

It is seldom that the second name on a ticket has brought it such strength as that of Calvin Coolidge. The American people idolize a man with backbone. He was presented with a new and anarchic issue in the Boston police strike. There is no computing what a "pussy-footer" in the Massachusetts State House might have cost that city and this whole country. If the Governor had hesitated or conciliated or compromised, it would have been officially admitted that a police force can step aside, on the specious plea that they are "on strike," and let the deluge of ever-waiting robbery, rapine and murder sweep over a helpless civilian population.

It was a far worse crime than would be a "strike" by the soldiers in the trenches; for that would only allow an army of civilized troops to invade an unprotected countryside. There might be "atrocities," but there would be at least an effort at martial law and order. But a police "strike" releases upon an unarmed people the "red indians," the degenerate savages, the reckless "gallows" birds who lurk in the moral jungles of our great cities—the modern Huns and Vandals whose existence is the blackest blot on our boasted civilization. Still they exist; and when the police go off duty they swarm out in deadly clouds.

But Governor Calvin Coolidge did not flinch. He saw at once that the very fabric of civilization was challenged. And in the name of the splendid old Commonwealth of Massachusetts he took up the challenge. He called out the forces of law and order. He beat back the emissaries of crime. He burned upon the foreheads of the police mutineers the damning epithet "deserter." He barred them forever out of the public service they had betrayed. He crushed at one stroke all fear that this poltroon policy might spread to the loyal and steadfast men who in our many cities stand as the sufficient and trusted guardians of the peace and public security.

That was Calvin Coolidge. No one will accuse him of being "machine-made" or machine-dominated. His presence on the ticket will give it an irresistible appeal to men who love courage, conviction and that rare ability to meet a swift crisis with decisive and rightly directed boldness.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

"HERE'S YOUR HAT—WHAT'S YOUR HURRY?" SAYS THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE TO JOHNSON AND BORAH.

Senator Hiram W. Johnson will pass a few days in the capitol and then go to California. There is probably no livelier convention aftermath topic of conversation than his eventual intentions regarding the Harding-Coolidge ticket. Senator Johnson retained unbroken control of the California delegation to the bitter end, resolutely refused to join the Harding band-wagon.

The Johnson-Borah combination emerges from the convention in notoriously sore mood. They are tasting the bitterness of defeat. It is reported in quarters likely to know the Johnsonian present state of mind that the senator is going to his own state to sound sentiment there on the Harding candidacy. His future action will depend largely on what he finds there. If he finds the conservative Chicago nomination is considered too "unprogressive" to suit California and the West generally, Senator Johnson may decide to go his own way, and the faithful Borah with him.

William Howard Taft's defiant "let-them-bolt" message to the irreconcilables, finds an interesting echo in the Chicago Tribune. That staunch organ of progressivism, addressing itself particularly to Senator William E. Borah, says: "Here's your hat. What's your hurry?"

It says Borah will find it considerably harder to get along without the Republican party than the Republican party will find it difficult to worry along without him.

Senator Harding, the same authorities aver, personifies ideally and adequately the "feet-on-the-ground" policy which the country sighs to see re-established in Washington in substitution for the professorial idealism from which the United States has suffered since 1913.

THE G. O. P. PICKED HARDING TO CEMENT ELEMENTS ALONG McKINLEY LINES.

If one thought more than any other dominates the discussions today by Republican leaders on the selection of the Harding-Coolidge ticket, it was just this:

"Has Harding the craftsmanship to pick the scattered ends of factionalism and weld them to the main body of the party organization in such a manner as to have the finished product resemble the political structure that made the Republican party of a decade ago the party of efficiency?"

All of the leaders who worked for the nomination of Harding naturally believed he has. They regard him as the one man fitted for the task. He represents to them a reversion to the McKinley type, a fact his supporters made much of during the pre-convention fight. He does not pose as being anything other than what he is—a conservative.

It was the deliberate design of the party leaders to go to the country this year as the disciples of conservatism. They were convinced the American people wanted such a candidate. They have in Harding, they believe, a man free from cults and isms, who could be expected to give the nation an administration of public affairs based on sound principles of business judgment, of doing, they are quite sure, that which the business interests of the country—the smallest merchant as well as the greatest banker—desire at Washington, more of practical common sense in the settlement of public questions and less of cant and horse-play.

HEROES OF '60 OUT WITH FACTS

Want Public To Know How Much Good Tanlac Has Done at Old Soldiers' Home.

So many of the old 'Vets' out at the Soldiers' Home in Leavenworth have been benefited by Tanlac lately that they decided the fact ought to be made public.

The call for volunteers to report the matter was quickly answered by J. F. Johnson and C. H. Ostrander, each seventy-four years of age, and David M. Cain, who is now in his eightieth year.

Their statements, which were received at the Tanlac offices a few days ago, all seem to have been signed with a steady hand and tell in no uncertain terms of the remarkable results these old heroes of the 'Sixties' have obtained from the Master Medicine.

David M. Cain, Corporal of Company "L" Ward 1, the oldest of the trio, says: "I have lived a long time and have had lots of experience with medicines, but I have never come across the equal of Tanlac. It has not only rid me of a case of nervous indigestion of eight years standing, but I have actually gained sixteen pounds in weight by taking it. Before taking Tanlac I had no appetite and what little I did eat would sour on my stomach and I would swell up with gas until I could hardly breathe. My heart would palpitate at a terrible rate and I also had raging headaches, and often got so dizzy I could scarcely stand on my feet. I had pains all through my body and was so weak it was difficult for me to get around at all.

"But Tanlac has done away with all my miserable feelings and put me in better shape than I have been for eight or ten years. I can eat just anything I want and my appetite is a caution, and sleep, why, I just sleep like a log every night, feel good and strong, and have more energy than I have had in years. I have recommended Tanlac to many of my comrades, who have also taken it with fine results. It certainly is the right medicine for old folks."

"At the time I began taking Tanlac," said J. F. Johnson, "I couldn't eat or sleep to do much good and just felt miserable all the time. I suffered from indigestion, dizziness, pains in my back, and about all my strength had left me. I had just about come to the conclusion that I would never be well again, but am now in better physical shape than I have been for a long time. In fact, I don't think I ever felt much better, even when I was a young man, than I do since taking Tanlac."

C. H. Ostrander says: "I believe I had about all the miserable feelings anybody with indigestion can have, and I was so weak and nervous I could hardly drag around. I had been battling with this condition for three years and was ready to give up the fight. But by the help of Tanlac I am now feeling fine.

"I'd like to tell all the soldiers everywhere how Tanlac is helping us here in Leavenworth."

Tanlac is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill; in Yellow Springs by A. Finley; Bowersville, N. K. Bowermeister; Fairfield, Paul P. Young; Osborn, C. J. Logsdon; New Burlington, W. C. Smith.

TRAIL OF DISHPANS REWARDS OFFICERS IN SEARCH FOR MISSING

A trail of dishpans extending from Trebeins to Fairfield was the reward of Deputy Sheriff George A. Birch and Police Officer Joseph Day, when they went out Tuesday afternoon to seek a barrel of the household utensils which had been reported by Fred Flynn, to be stolen from the warehouse at Trebeins.

The dishpans, galvanized and enameled, had been shipped to Mr. Flynn by mistake for electrical supplies, and pending their return were placed in the warehouse. A week ago they were missed.

A search warrant was issued in the court of Magistrate J. E. Jones, against J. B. Smith, a carpenter living at Trebeins, and after 3 of the pans had been located by the officers, Smith was arrested and locked up in the county jail.

Sheriff Funderburg notified every person at whose home any of the stolen pans were located to appear in his office at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, in an effort to find the rest of the missing articles.

Three of the baker's dozen of the dishpans located Tuesday, were found at Smith's home in Trebeins. The others were located it was said, among the children and other relatives of Smith living all over the western part of the county. When Smith returned home, the officers were waiting for him. He at first denied any knowledge of the dishpans, but finally admitted having taken one of them, officers said.

Deputy Sheriff George A. Birch started out early Wednesday morning in an effort to locate the rest of the pans. Some of those recovered Tuesday had been in use. One woman had to skim the cream from milk in two of the pans before she could turn them over to the officers.

LOUIS SAINT SIMON
June 16th (?) 1875

One of the many extraordinary figures in the history of French politics and literature, is that of Louis Saint Simon an almost indefatigable writer of memoirs, to whom we owe much of our knowledge of his time.

He was born at Versailles, supposedly on June 16th in 1875. (Some accounts give his birth month as January.) The peerage was given to his father and as this was an unusual honor in France, it seems to have gone a bit to his son's head. In any event Louis grew up the most rigid sort of aristocrat. The great king Louis XIV was his godfather, he was of course received at court. He became a diplomat and married rather more happily than most people of his age.

But the king took a dislike to him and Saint Simon attached himself to the Duke of Orleans and his party. He had an inordinate love of gossip.

He used everyone from dukes to stable boys as his tools to gather information. What he found out, he put on paper, and at his death a vast amount of manuscript was discovered. Moderately well known in his life, his death made him famous—then these memoirs, this half-known gossip was made public and the style in which it was written, was vivid and delightful though he spared few people either friend or foe.

The family notoriety was carried on after his death in a curious fashion. For while Louis Saint Simon was an aristocrat and hated the poor the next famous Saint Simon was the founder of French Socialism.

What a lot of argument there used to be about a woman driving an automobile

TODAY she can "make a train" or fix a tire as well as anybody.

As soon as a luxury becomes a necessity the point of view changes.

Two or three years ago you would have listened to more varying opinions about tires than you could shake a stick at. Mileages, construction, treads and whatnot.

It's different now. Tire users are working towards a unanimous feeling.

You express it one way—the man down the street another. But sifted down it amounts to this:

That the only way to settle your tire problem is to get a tire of known value and stick to it.

We recommend and sell U. S. Tires because their value is known.

There's no guess about it.

It was the U. S. quality policy which led to the perfection of the straight-side automobile tire, the pneumatic truck tire—two of the greatest additions to tire value that have ever been made.

As representatives of the oldest and largest rubber concern in the world, we are in a position to tell you something about tire values. Come in some day and talk to us.

Select your tires according to the roads they have to travel:

- In sandy or hilly country, wherever the going is apt to be heavy—The U. S. Nobby.
- For ordinary country roads—The U. S. Chain or Usco.
- For front wheels—The U. S. Flat.
- For best results—everywhere—U. S. Royal Cord.

TRAIL OF DISHPANS REWARDS OFFICERS IN SEARCH FOR MISSING

A trail of dishpans extending from Trebeins to Fairfield was the reward of Deputy Sheriff George A. Birch and Police Officer Joseph Day, when they went out Tuesday afternoon to seek a barrel of the household utensils which had been reported by Fred Flynn, to be stolen from the warehouse at Trebeins.

The dishpans, galvanized and enameled, had been shipped to Mr. Flynn by mistake for electrical supplies, and pending their return were placed in the warehouse. A week ago they were missed.

A search warrant was issued in the court of Magistrate J. E. Jones, against J. B. Smith, a carpenter living at Trebeins, and after 3 of the pans had been located by the officers, Smith was arrested and locked up in the county jail.

Sheriff Funderburg notified every person at whose home any of the stolen pans were located to appear in his office at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, in an effort to find the rest of the missing articles.

Three of the baker's dozen of the dishpans located Tuesday, were found at Smith's home in Trebeins. The others were located it was said, among the children and other relatives of Smith living all over the western part of the county. When Smith returned home, the officers were waiting for him. He at first denied any knowledge of the dishpans, but finally admitted having taken one of them, officers said.

Deputy Sheriff George A. Birch started out early Wednesday morning in an effort to locate the rest of the pans. Some of those recovered Tuesday had been in use. One woman had to skim the cream from milk in two of the pans before she could turn them over to the officers.

WRIGHT COUNCIL HELDS ASSEMBLY

O. B. Cornell of Westerville, grand thrice illustrious master of the Grand Council of Ohio, and Camillus W. Shepard, the illustrious grand steward of the Grand Council of Ohio, of the Masonic Order, were present at the special session held by Wright council, R. and S. M. Monday.

The degree of Royal and Select Masters was conferred in the afternoon upon eight candidates, and following a banquet at 6 o'clock the degree of Super excellent master was conferred upon thirty. Most of the candidates for the degrees were from Xenia and vicinity but the two Columbus men and several from Dayton took the work here.

The work was in charge of the degree staff of Wright Council. Informal talks were given by the two grand officers and by several others. About 100 men attended the assembly including a number of visitors from other councils.

The Rev. V. F. Brown D D pastor of Trinity church who is the grand chaplain of Ohio, was unable to be present owing to illness.

LOUIS SAINT SIMON
June 16th (?) 1875

One of the many extraordinary figures in the history of French politics and literature, is that of Louis Saint Simon an almost indefatigable writer of memoirs, to whom we owe much of our knowledge of his time.

He was born at Versailles, supposedly on June 16th in 1875. (Some accounts give his birth month as January.) The peerage was given to his father and as this was an unusual honor in France, it seems to have gone a bit to his son's head. In any event Loui grew up the most rigid sort of aristocrat. The great king Louis XIV was his godfather, he was of course received at court. He became a diplomat and married rather more happily than most people of his age.

But the king took a dislike to him and Saint Simon attached himself to the Duke of Orleans and his party. He had an inordinate love of gossip.

He used everyone from dukes to stable boys as his tools to gather information. What he found out, he put on paper, and at his death a vast amount of manuscript was discovered. Moderately well known in his life, his death made him famous— for then these memoirs, this half-known gossip was made public. And the style in which it was written, was vivid and delightful though he spared few people either friend or foe.

The family notoriety was carried on after his death in a curious fashion. For while Louis Saint Simon was an aristocrat and hated the poor the next famous Saint Simon was the founder of French Socialism.

ANTIOCH COLLEGE PLANS CO-OPERATIVE SYSTEM AS PART OF DEVELOPMENT PLAN

Plans for the development of Antioch college along progressive lines, were discussed by trustees of the Yellow Springs school who held their annual meeting Tuesday.

Although the plans are still in embryo, election to the trustee board of four men, prominent in the industrial and educational world. It was announced was in furtherance of the plan to be developed for the school. Charles F. Kettering of Dayton, leading manufacturer F. D. Slutz, principal of the Lorain City Schools, an authority on modern educational problems and known prominently for his new ideas regarding the development of high school students J. C. Haswell of the Platt Iron Works, Dayton and George Verity head of the Steel Rolling Mill Middletown are the new men elected to the trustee board.

President William M. Dawson said that they had all expressed their willingness to serve on the board, and to do all in their power to assist in the work planned.

While details of the development scheme have not been made public it is understood that a cooperative system of education is being planned, to give students who may desire an opportunity to work part of the time while attending school.

Arthur E. Morgan, head of The Morgan Engineering Company who has charge of the engineering work for the Miami Conservancy District was made a trustee of Antioch a year ago on the recommendation of President Elliott of Harvard University, is responsible for the plan of development suggested for Antioch. It is in furtherance of a plan of which it is said, he has dreamed since he was a boy in College. He is now the owner of 400 acres in the Berkshire Hills, which he bought, it is said with a view toward some time seeing built there an educational institution of the nature of which he had dreamed. His enthusiasm over this ideal has centered in Antioch.

The plan suggested for Antioch were announced to members of the Alumni Association attending the annual banquet and meeting Tuesday night. The meeting was the most enthusiastic held by the association in years and 2500 was subscribed by the ex-students toward the expenses of the college for next year.

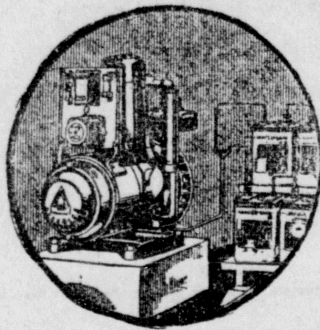

Lowell Fess was toastmaster, and talks were made by President William M. Dawson, Trustee Arthur E. Morgan, Congressman S. D. Fess, ex-president of Antioch; Miss Olive Parrish, representing the incoming class; George Eldridge of Boston Mrs. Carrie Ellis Hancock of Brooklyn, N. Y., Homer Corry of Springfield; Mrs. Louise Abbott of Bethel, O., Mrs. Carl O. Nybladh of Xenia.

Trustees who attended Tuesday's meeting were: Arthur E. Morgan;

Prof. F. C. Derby, Ohio State University; Prof. Frances E. Caldwell, Ohio State University; Prof. J. B. Miller, Yellow Springs; P. M. Stewart, Dr. George D. Black, Ralph Howell, Yellow Springs, General J. Warren Keifer, Springfield; Rev. John Mallick, Cincinnati. The trustees were entertained at dinner by President and Mrs. William M. Dawson.

Proving Essex Reliability A Fact Not to be Disregarded

One cannot ignore the Essex performance of 3037 miles in 50 hours when considering light car endurance.

In fact no car ever was driven at top speed for such a distance or for so long a period of time.

But if any doubt remained after that official proof made with a stock Essex, the 40,000 cars in service each shows the degree of Essex reliability.

Thousands of Essex cars show in excess of 25,000 miles service each.

And owners by their testimony are daily establishing the Essex not only as the most amazing light car from the standpoint of performance, but also as the equal of the costly large cars in the question of endurance and freedom from mechanical attention and expense.
